

10 Best Books for Kindergarten Students

Bill Martin Jr. / Eric Carle

Brown Bear, Brown Bear, What do you See? - by Bill Martin

Children will learn different colors and animals while rhyming their way through this very popular and fun book.

Chicka Chicka Boom Boom - by Jim Archambault

Chant your way up the coconut tree with the alphabet.

Corduroy - by Don Freeman

Corduroy the bear waits patiently for a child to buy him and take him home. What happens when his opportunity almost passes him by?

It Looked Like Spilled Milk - by Charles G. Shaw

This book is great for patterning and allows children to use their imaginations to guess what the pictures look like.

Goodnight Moon - by Margaret Wise Brown

This widely popular book deals with the daily routine of saying goodnight before bed.

Pancakes for Breakfast - by Tomie De Paola

This is a wordless picture book, giving the child a great opportunity to tell the story.

Swimmy - by Leo Lionni

This book, along with Lionni's Frederick, Inch by Inch, and Alexander the Wind-Up Mouse, won a Caldecott Honour. Swimmy teaches children about bullying and how to be nice to one another.

The Snowy Day - by Ezra Jack Keats

This book is about a boy who explores his neighbourhood after the first snowfall. Keats received the 1963 Caldecott Medal for his illustrations in The Snowy Day.

The Very Hungry Caterpillar - by Eric Carle

A caterpillar grows up to be a butterfly. This colourfully illustrated book teaches children about numbers and foods.

Where the Wild Things Are - by Maurice Sendak

Max was misbehaving so his mother sent him to his room. Where did his imagination take him next?

*Go to Albert Library at 1401 Robinson Street to check out these and other great books for your child! www.reginalibrary.ca